

This security certificate was issued by a company that you have not chosen to trust

Hi,

I want to check my mailbox on an Exchange Server from home using my IE6 browser (WinXP Pro SP1), when I go to the server IP address a dialog box appears saying:

'This security certificate was issued by a company that you have not chosen to trust' and then the choices presented are view certificate, install certificate or reject certificate.

I have repeatedly chosen view certificate and install certificate but every time I try to log the same dialog box appears.

Now, I know it is not the right forum, but you the guys that could know the answer are here, please understand.

My question is can I install the certificate at once and make the login process easier from then on ?

Any help will be appreciated.

I didn't find the right solution from the Internet.
